

Anticipation

A life insurance policy is usually for a long period. The record of the company in which you insure, therefore, becomes of first importance. The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York gives you the best security for the future.

$352,000,000

It has paid Policyholders over which is more than any other life insurance company in existence has disbursed.

$569,000,000

Write for "Where Shall I Insure?"

THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK

RICHARD A. MCCORDY, President.

ROBERT N. MERRITT, Vice-President, Indianapolis, Ind.

H. C. Carr

DENTIST

Phone, Green, 2264. 46 N. Pennsylvania St.

Tailor Shirtwaists,

Fancy Wraps,

Shirtwaist Suits

MADE TO ORDER.

Miss TURNER, 25 CORDOVA

Street, Phone 3186

You Get All That's

Coming to You

When you buy of us

YOU PAY NO MIDDLEMAN'S

PROFIT

Being direct importers, with the best facilities for buying in Europe, we are in position to offer diamonds and other precious stones at right prices.

J. C. SIPE, Importer of Diamonds,

Rooms 2, 3 and 4, 184 North Meridian St.,

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

DRIVING GLOVES

Buck, $1.25, $1.50 and $2 a pair

Doyle, $1.25, $1.50 and $2 a pair

Stilk, $1.25, $1.50 and $2 a pair

Mocha, $1.25, $1.50 and $2 a pair

10 East Washington Street.

DIED ON STREET CAR.

W. W. Wentz, Custodian of Newton

Claypool Building, the Victim.

W. W. Wentz, seventy years old, custodian at the Newton Claypool building, died suddenly yesterday morning in a College-avenue street car while on his way down town to his work. The car had just turned on to Massachusetts avenue from College, when Wentz fell from his seat. The car was run hastily to the corner of Pennsylvania and Washington streets and the man was carried into Huder's drug store. An examination proved that he was dead. It is thought death was caused by heart failure. The body was taken to the morgue and later to his home, 321 Broadway. He leaves a widow, son and daughter. The daughter, Miss Kate Wentz, is a teacher in the Manual Training High School. The son is general manager of the Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf Railroad. In the early 80's Mr. Wentz was a conductor and assistant superintendent of the old J. M. & I. Railroad. He worked for several railroads as conductor.

Death of George Knodle.

George Knodle died yesterday morning at his home, 1629 Central avenue, from congestion of the lungs, from which he had suffered a long time. Mr. Knodle was seventy years old. At one time he was a prosperous business man in this city. He was in the shoe business with his father. He was also connected with the American Express Company. He married in 1894 Miss Mary Frances Walker, of this city. Two sons, George and Fred, survive him. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

Dr. Sims Highly Honored.

Rev. Dr. Sims, so favorably known in this city, recently resigned the pastorate of the First Methodist Church in Syracuse, N. Y. So opposed was the congregation to his leaving the church that a large meeting was held which adopted resolutions setting forth their high appreciation of his ministry and urging him to reconsider his withdrawal, promising him an assistant. Dr. Sims, however, felt compelled to abide by his decision. It is understood that he will make his home in Indiana. Dr. Sims has been a preacher more than forty years.

LIKE A PROVIDENCE

A Floating Box Changed a Man's Life.

Things drift into our lives in a curious way. A man was visiting the seashore while an invalid and one day a little empty Grape-Nuts box floated to him. The food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring, I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose."

"Last spring, I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown upon the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it. It was a Grape-Nuts box. I picked it up and read the food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

HOTEL LOBBY CLEANINGS

SOL. C. DICKEY TALKS OF IMPROVEMENTS AT WINONA.

An Electric Railroad and a Lighting Plant Among Them—The Mount Memorial Building.

"We are arranging for many improvements at Winona," said Rev. Sol C. Dickey at the Hotel English yesterday evening.

"We have just organized the Winona & Warsaw Railway Company, an electric line to run between these two places, a distance of about three and a half miles. At a meeting to-day with the officers of the Northern Traction Company we arranged to build the road and they will take it off our hands and operate it as soon as their line between Kendallville and Indianapolis is completed. We expect to have our line built within the next sixty days."

"We also expect to have an electric plant at Winona and we will build a pumping station for our sewage. We expect to erect 100 new cottages of two, three and five rooms, which will be furnished and rented at $40, $50 and $75 a month. We have ordered the erection of a large building just opposite the biological station, which, like the Moody building, is to be for the free use of ministers of all denominations, who are on a salary of $300 a year or less. The United Brethren at Winona have just completed a building for their ministers, costing $10,000. The United Presbyterians, the Lutherans and the Congregationalists have decided to erect buildings similar to that of the United Brethren."

"Work will begin in the next two weeks on the Mount Memorial building. This is a building for the Winona Agricultural and Technical Institute that is to be erected at a cost of $50,000 in memory of the late James A. Mount, who was a member of the Winona board of directors and one of the founders of the school. The present auditorium is to be remodeled and enlarged, increasing its capacity 1,500. A hall of philosophy, or second auditorium, to seat 1,000, will be erected on the site now known as the Lily Pond, near the hillside. The C. L. S. C. class of 1902 voted to raise $1,000 with which to pay for the foundations of this hall, and the succeeding classes will be expected and have agreed to assist in the soliciting of funds with which to pay for the hall itself. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has adopted plans for a new brick depot to take the place of the present one. The Winona board last week purchased the clubhouse at Mineral Beach, on the east shore of Pike lake, one mile and a half from Winona golf links. We have contracted to have the clubhouse moved to a site on the golf links, near the Pennsylvania depot. It will be remodeled and made one of the handsomest golf clubhouses in the State. We are dredging near Indian Mound and Chicago Hill, and by next spring expect to have completed an additional mile and a half of canal, which will make an island of both Indian Mound and Chicago Hill."

Gives Knives to His Friends.

"Steven S. Collett, of Newport, Ind., is giving away cedar paper knives to all his friends," said Larz Whitcomb, who has recently returned from a visit to his old home in Vermillion county. "Steven Collett," he continued, "is a brother of the late John Collett, who was state geologist and of the late Josephus Collett, who was a prominent Terre Haute railroad man. Steven Collett is now an invalid and is wheeled about in a chair. He spends much of his time whittling out paper knives from cedar. It is his aim to give all of his friends something to remember him after he is dead and he presents them with these knives."

F. M. Dice's New Title.

Frank M. Dice, who secured the title of "major" while putting in rural delivery routes at Louisville, Ky., was in town yesterday on his way to his home at Crawfordsville. "Major" Dice has been at work in Noble county establishing new routes and rearranging old ones. He has completed his work and said yesterday that there are a sufficient number of routes there to serve about everybody in the county.

Visitors at the Hotels.

John Lewis, clerk at the Russell House, Detroit, is in Indianapolis, taking a vacation, and is staying at the Grand Hotel.

E. G. Hogarty, of Louisville, was at the Spencer House last night.

S. C. Rowland, manager of the Crawfordville Water Company, was at the Denison.

CITY NEWS NOTES.

Miss Blanche C. Knickerbacker School this winter.

Dr. T. C. Hood has gone to Monticello for a few days' fishing along the historic Tennessee.

Beginning Sept. 15 the Woman's Exchange will serve supper every evening from 6 to 7:30 o'clock.

The sixteenth annual reunion of the Persepolis Brigade Association will be held Wednesday, Sept. 17, in the Criminal Court room.

Members of the McKinley Circle, No. 22, Ladies of the G. A. R., will give an entertainment to-morrow evening at Germania Hall. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Dickhut, 1504 Fletcher avenue, will entertain the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Railway Postal Clerks, and their husbands, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. J. Edward Brown, pastor of the Home Presbyterian Church, will hold a memorial service this morning in memory of President McKinley. To-night Dr. Brown will deliver a sermon on "Public Schools."

Carey S. and Perry Hoover, the oldest pair of twins in this State, celebrated their advanced age, both men are yet vigorous and healthy. Carey Hoover is living on a large farm near Maywood and Perry runs a grocery at Cornell avenue and Fifteenth street.

At a meeting of the directors of the Young Women's Christian Association it was decided to charge non-members using the luncheon room an admission fee of five cents. This action was taken on account of the large number of strangers who had been coming to the association for the exclusion of the regular members.

A few days ago Henry Lampung and Joseph Kramer were arrested on the charge of passing counterfeit money. Lampung's name was signed with the check, and yesterday in Police Court he was fined and costs and sentenced to thirty days in the workhouse. Detectives Asch and Manning, who made the arrest, learned that Lampung would go to the workhouse, placed the charge of arson against Lampung. The prisoner was sent to the jail instead of going to the workhouse. It is said Lampung burned his residence in Irvington two years ago.

Complaint has been made that city clerk Elliott has been derelict in collecting gamblers' fines. R. C. Williamson and R. M. Dunlap, two jurymen, have taken Sanders some time ago on the charge of selling policy tickets, said yesterday that he had been arrested to pass the check. Clerk Elliott explained this by saying that Sanders had never paid his fine, although it had been stayed. A commitment was issued yesterday for the arrest of Sanders and he was brought into the police station. He said he would make an effort to pay his fine. As soon as the fine is paid the jurymen will receive their pay, Elliott said.

Opening of Tudor Hall.

The faculty of Tudor Hall, the new school for girls at Meridian and Sixteenth streets, which will open Wednesday morning, is the Rev. J. Cunningham Smith, dean; Miss Fredonia Allen, principal; Miss Mabel Douglas Reid, of Cornell and the American School of Classical Studies at Rome, Greek and Latin; Miss Evaline Pierce, of Vassar College, English literature and composition; Miss Hedwig von Bielew, of Marburg, Prussia, Normal Institute, French and German; Miss Frances Hickman Buntin, kindergarten; Miss Bernice Smith, assistant in kindergarten; Miss Mary E. Dresser and Miss June Hecker, primary department; Miss Sarah Wallace Foster, preparatory department; Miss Anna Hasselman, art; Miss Anna L. D. Swan, physical culture; Miss Caroline Hardwick, voice culture; Franz Bellingier, department of music; Prof. Edward Eberle, piano; Miss Benadine Smith and Miss Edith Brown, violin; Miss Stella Braden, mandolin, guitar and banjo; Miss Anna McKay, Fletcher music method simplex and kindergarten.

SCHOOL OPENS THIS WEEK

All School Books and All School Supplies

At Bowen-Merrill's

The largest stock of School Books and Supplies ever brought to Indianapolis is at the Bowen-Merrill store.

Something will be found elsewhere. Everything will be found here.

High School Books—Books for the Grades—County Books—Everything of customers the store will be open Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock and every morning at 7:30 o'clock.

FOR CONVENIENCE

MOORE'S AMAZING 'STUNT'

IN PINK TIGHTS HE CAVORTED ALONG WASHINGTON STREET.

While Throwing a Few Somersaults He Was Hit by a Street Car and Jarred.

Patrolman Paulsel, who stands at the corner of Pennsylvania and Washington streets looking after the safety of pedestrians, had his hands full last night at 7:45 o'clock trying to keep Charles Moore from being killed by College-avenue street car No. 418. Paulsel was attracted to Moore by his unique street costume. Moore was coming up Washington street bareheaded, wearing a blue and pink suit of tights. His arms dangled at his sides without any covering from the chilly night air. As he reached the corner hundreds of people stopped and looked at the curiously-clad man. Moore seemed unconscious of the attention he attracted, and to amuse the people, turned several somersaults.

Paulsel started toward the free exhibition, but before he could reach Moore the latter, with his head whirling from his circus act, ran against the street car. The car threw Moore back several feet. Moore fell to the pavement and screamed that he was terribly injured. Martin Barrett, day driver for the ambulance, was passing and he assisted Paulsel in carrying Moore into Huder's drug store. An immense crowd gathered and from the walls that came from the interior of the store it was heard that Moore was drawing his last breath. When Paulsel and Barrett undertook to raise Moore the latter insisted that his leg was broken.

He was taken to the City Dispensary, where an examination was made. No serious injuries could be found. He was taken upstairs to the turnkey's office and slated on the charge of being drunk. Moore found shelter in a room at the Washington street. He imagines that he is a high-wire performer and a contortionist. He had been in the curio part of the city in the early part of the night giving exhibitions of his skill in saunas.

New Business Concerns.

The Shirley Radiator and Furniture Company, of Shirley, incorporated yesterday. The capital stock is $50,000. Robert Martindale, Thomas J. Markey and William W. Knight are the directors.

The Elkhart Construction Company, of Elkhart, incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000. The directors are George C. Berkey, Ralph W. Emerson and Frank Brunsell.

The Muncie Coal Company incorporated. The capital stock is $5,000 and the directors are Daniel M. Davis, Charles S. Davis and James A. Cooper.

The Planet Manufacturing Company, of Chicago, came to the Indiana law yesterday. The capital stock of the company is $25,000, of which $1,250 is represented in Indiana. Louis Newburger is the Indiana agent.

Death of Father Healy.

Word has been received here of the death of the Rev. William Healy, at Leadville, Col. Father Healy was twenty-seven years old and his death was caused by pneumonia. He had been a priest for three years. Prior to his ordination he was connected with St. John's Church in this city. He was a graduate of St. John's Boys School. He was ordained at St. Meinrad's Seminary, this State, and was immediately sent to Leadville. The body of Father Healy will arrive in this city to-day. It will be given at 4 p. m. A reception will be given at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons, 330 South Delaware street. Tuesday morning the body will be sent to the home of his parents in New Haven, Conn. Father Healy's parents formerly lived in this city.

Reception to T. G. Harrison.

The members of the different tribes of the Improved Order of Red Men and the Degree of Pocahontas will give a reception to-morrow at the Grand Hotel to T. G. Harrison, newly-elected grand inchoonee for the United States. A reception will be given at 4 p. m. This will be followed by a parade in the evening. The lodges will form at 7:30 o'clock at Capitol avenue and will march to the Grand Hotel. The lodges will again be received by Mr. Harrison. The latter will then be escorted to Tomlinson Hall, where a number of speeches will be made. Mayor Book-walter will preside as chairman.

Special Excursions Over Pennsylvania

Short Lines from Indianapolis.

WASHINGTON AND RETURN—$12.50. Oct. 3, 4, 5 and 6, good to return until Oct. 14, with privilege of extension of return.

NEW YORK AND RETURN—$22.50. Oct. 3, 4, 5 and 6, good to return until Oct. 14, 1902.

BOSTON AND RETURN—all rail, $24.00. Via sound lines, $25.00. Oct. 7 to 11, inclusive, return until Oct. 12, with privilege